R H F QUARTZ STONE

Inspired by Nature. Designed for life.

About us...

RHF Quartz Stone was established in 1984 as a family business, producing quartz stone in the mainland China.

Today, we've spread out to a production area of 50,000m<sup>2</sup> in multiple manufacturing plants supplying almost every continent around the world.

Although we've only been in the Australian market since 2008, we're very well known for our large variety of 'Engineered', 'Natural' and 'Supernatural' stone types for decades in US, UK, Canada and most parts of Europe.

In the production of our engineered (reconstituted) stone, we use; natural quartz crystals (93%), resin (7%) and a portion of pigment in a vacuumed condition, processed amongst a heterogeneous material aggregation technology. The compact structure of our 'Engineered' stone makes it incomparable in terms of resistance to abrasion, compression, high temperature, corrosion and penetration. Formed into a fixed size thickness, followed by our unique method of polishing with an eye catching natural look finish. Greatly matching colorful combinations used in many areas of living.

Our engineered manufacture has indistinguishable texture as to natural products.

From kitchen benchtops to bathroom vanities, from fireplaces to counter tops, simply as far as 'boutique living' goes, we believe there are no limits for your imagination.

The reputable Certification of ISO9001:2000 has expanded our knowledge, horizons and expertise in the industry with all stone types. A strong statement as such is a result of general feedback of consumer and expert opinion in the trade of building, construction and living.

'Our motivation is your undoubted satisfaction.'
